CHAPTER #00: HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

The cold wind which blew past made the slender figure pull her cloak tighter around body.

The tiny girl liked the cold weather and enjoyed watching the stars in the sky. With a sweet smile, she tilted her head up to gaze at the sky, which at this moment was twinkling with starlight. The sky was incredibly beautiful now.

"Are you cold?"

"A little."

"I warned you to wear a thicker coat."

The tiny girl didn't respond to the chiding that came along with the hot Milo being handed to her.

The tiny girl waited for her companion to sit down beside before leaning on slender shoulders with a smile on her face.

"I waited for you."

"Waited for...?"

"Yes, because you're my warmth."

The smile on the face of the person whose shoulder she leaned on made her smile back easily.

Just as she had said, this person was her warmth.

A warmth she cherished dearly, a warmth that allowed her to see that there was still kindness left in the world.

"Happy anniversary."

"You don't have to give me a gift."

"Why not?"

"Because you are already my gift every single day... the gift I love the most."

The gift she dearly loved.

The gift that made her feel that life still had a purpose, even though four years ago, she had decided to abandon her own life.

But it was these very hands that pulled her back.

Not only did they pull her back, but they also helped her learn so many things.

Especially the value of life.

Her life belonged to this one person alone.

Her whole world.

Ranlada Thananusak.

Mummy Earn has dedicated her passion wholeheartedly to her acting career and relentless efforts have gradually made her the largest shareholder of the television broadcaster.

Although I'm not directly engage in the entertainment industry like my mom, just only operate as the heiress. Will I possess the capability to lead?

quote as Ranlada Thananusak (eldest daughter of LadaEarn)

CHAPTER #01: THE HEIR

The board meeting of the famous television broadcaster began with everyone's smiles.

As it had been known for some time that the major shareholder's heir would be coming in to learn the ropes after graduating from a prestigious university abroad.

There was no feeling of being looked down upon or that the heir was using connections.

Being the heir of a former famous actress and the largest shareholder, it was no surprise that the heir was given the opportunity to learn how to operate.

This was especially relevant at a time when many channels had emerged during the digital TV era.

It was important for the heir to understand how the channel operated amidst this growing competition.

The warm welcome full of smiles from the executives made the beautiful girl standing next to her mother relax more.

Although Aey had received a lot of encouragement from Mummy Lada earlier that morning, Aey still felt quite nervous when entering the meeting room.

However, seeing the smile of a woman whose beauty had never faded with time, Mummy Earn's smile helped to significantly alleviate her tension.

"My eldest daughter did great!!". The former actress, who owns the most shares in the broadcaster, praised her eldest daughter and hugged her to give encouragement as soon as the meeting ended, there's only close acquaintances remained in the room.

"Do you think I can do it, Mom?"

"Since when did my daughter become so lacking in confidence?"

Earn's words made Aey laugh softly.

Entering the meeting room with high-ranking executives present inevitably caused some nervousness. The more you are under scrutiny, the more pressure you feel.

Coming in as the daughter of a major shareholder is not as easy as it might seem.

"If not skilled, then you're not Suise's niece, are you?"

"With all these praise, Aunt Suise ends up making I favor myself!!"

"Since my niece is both talented and beautiful, if I don't praise my own niece, who else should I praise, dear?"

The former top manager, who had nurtured many stars in the industry and who has now moved up to become the right-hand person to the major shareholder of the broadcaster, smiled broadly.

With a niece who is both talented and beautiful, it would be an understatement not to praise her.

Having taken care of Aey since she was little, it's only natural that she has won the affection of her aunt.

Even though the twins chose different paths, at least one of them is getting close to the entertainment industry, albeit through management rather than becoming an actress on screen.

"I will use all my knowledge to try as well as my ability,
Aunt Suise"

"Just take your time to learn the work, dear. Learn gradually and don't stress too much. I and Mummy Lada will always be there to support you."

"And Aunt Suise too, right, my Earn?"

"Thanks. I will not let everyone down."

The mother, who carried her child for nearly nine months, looked at her daughter with pride. One chose the path of the entertainment business, while the other chose a path like her companion.

Even though when Aey was young, it was the elder sister who liked to ask for doctor-related toys and frequently asked her mom about doctor.

But when it came to choosing a career path, her eldest daughter decided to study abroad in management.

"How about we go see the office today, P'Aey?"

"That sounds good, mom. I'll take pictures of the office to show Dr. Eung".

Whenever the elder sister talks about her younger twin, her smile is full of happiness. For a mother, seeing her twin daughters love each other is the greatest joy.

"Shall we go out for dinner tonight, P'Aey?".

"That's good. I'll send a message to Dr. Aeng, okay?"

If Mom says this, Dr. Eung will definitely be free. Let's take a photo with Mom and Aunt Suise and send it to the younger twin to make her a bit envious.

"Don't forget to ask Dr. Eung if she wants anything to eat. If there's something she wants to order, do it in advance, in case Dr. Eung is late, you'll need to think of the menu as well. If you want anything, let Mom know"

"What about Mummy Lada?"

"No need to ask because I already knows Mummy's preferences."

"Even when she's not here, she still makes us envious. Aunt Suise, see this? Come to eat sugar and be envious with Aey"

"P'Aey, you should also find someone "sweet" now".

The former top manager laughed with her beloved niece. No matter how many years pass, the sweetness between Dr. Fahlada and Nong Earn remains unchanged for Aunt Suise.

Even though the children have grown up and are working, their sweetness doesn't seem to care about anyone else.

But let's not make Aunt Suise describe their sweetness too much, it might just make everyone envious.

"Oh, I won't find for anyone. I'm with Aunt Suise".

"No one can surpass my niece's sweetness," Aunt Suise replied.

"Aey are texting Dr. Eung... I will talk about this".

"Please don't. Don't hurt Aunt Suise like this... Let's just say that both of my beloved nieces are sweet-talking, okay?"

The former top manager gave her beloved niece a mock scowl before walking over to sit and link arms with Nong Earn.

"It's an extremely cute trait of the twins, they don't like it when someone praises only one of them and not both.

From a very young age, if only one twin received a compliment, that twin would sulk, wondering why the other wasn't praised as well.

For the twins, the concept of 'favoritism' does not exist.

"Aunt Suise, let's go to dinner together". The former actress said to her personal manager, who is now also one of the close relatives.

"Let's go with them, Nong Earn. I have a date with a young guy... Please give Dr. Eung a kiss from me and tell her Aunt Suise misses her very much."

"I'll take care of it as requested."

"Give Dr. Eung a kiss on the left cheek and the right cheek". The former top manager said with a broad smile, enjoying the happiness she felt whenever she was close to the Thanarusak family.

The love between Mummy Earn and Mummy Lada is so beautiful, and she also hopes to see her nieces have equally beautiful love in their lives.

By the way, up until now, the twins have never introduced anyone to anyone.

There hasn't been any sign of them having a partner at all.

P/S: Oh Aunt Suise, i know why they don't have boy friend. just because they are just like their both Mummy 55555555555555555555555555555555555555

CHAPTER #02: THE NEW STAFF (P1)

The beautiful woman in an expensive business suit smiled at the woman walking beside her – the woman she deeply loved. This was the woman who would do anything for her child, the woman who would give up the delicious food in front of her to let her child have the first taste.

Earn made her understand the meaning of true, unconditional love.

It was Mummy Lada and my Mom Earn. With great affection, I gently hugged the woman who gave birth to me, Mae Earn before kissed both of them on cheek and then slid between them, linking arms to lead into the restaurant together.

At first, Mae Ern thought she would reach the restaurant first, but it turned out Aey was the one who arrived there before anyone else.

“Mae Ern, you’re slower than Aey”. She teased while hugging Mae Earn’s arm and leaning her head on it.

“Mom went to pick up your Mummy Lada, Aey. Has Dr. Eung arrived yet?”

On the other side of the table sat Mummy Lada and Dr. Eung, but her younger twin sister hadn’t yet arrived at the restaurant.

“Not yet, but she’s close.

When she arrived at the restaurant, the first person she called was Dr. Eurng, in case her sister was caught up with something. That way, she could inform her Mom and Mummy Lada.

“Did Dr. Eung say to order food in advance, Aey?”. Dr. FahLada smiled at the restaurant staff waiting to serve them.

“Yes, go ahead, Mummy. Dr. Eung said we could order in advance.”

“Okay, then Mummy will order your favorite dish.”

“Sure, Mummy...”.

“... But don’t forget, Mummy, don’t order the ‘son-in-law egg’ or Dr. Eung will be upset.”

“Mummy made a mistake just once, and it’s a big deal, Aey”.

The playful exchange between the loved one and her eldest daughter made the former actress laugh softly.

Every time she thought about it, she couldn’t help but chuckle. It was one of the few times she had seen Dr. FahLada look so bewildered. The youngest daughter often liked the same foods as Mummy, so Mummy thought the daughter would like everything similarly.

She didn't realize that the 'son-in-law egg' dish would be something the youngest daughter would dislike.

Actually, both of her children like foods similar to Mummy Lada's. Not only that, their personalities or ways of expressing themselves almost seem to mimic each other.

Look now, as Aey moves to sit next to Mummy Lada to help look at the menu. If Dr. Eung were to join them on the other side of Dr. FahLada, it would really be like triplets!

"Did Mae Earn order anything else?"

"No, Aey. Mummy has already ordered the favorite dishes for my wife." She smiled at her eldest daughter, who was pretending to be annoyed by the sweetness between her mother and Mummy Lada.

"Don't be too sweet or you'll make Aey jealous". She teased, leaning her head on Mummy Lada's arm. What she received in return was the gentle touch of Mummy's soft hand brushing her hair tenderly.

"P'Aey, if you're feeling jealous, you should look for someone by your side". The gentle tone of Mom Earn came with a look that made Ranlada smile. Then, she excused herself from the dining room for a moment.

"Before Dr. Eung arrives, I'll step out to use the restroom". She said.

"I'll allow Mom Earn and Mummy Lada to have a moment together."

Aey kissed her mother and Mummy before leaving the private dining room.

Of course, the renowned Thai restaurant that Mom Earn and Mummy Lada chose for the evening offered privacy for clients. This was confirmed by Aunt Prem and Aunt Pat.

A smile was sent to the staff member who approached her as soon as she stepped out of the private room.

The staff were very attentive to the customers, the restaurant likely had staff specifically prepared for special service. She smiled at the staff member who was probably assigned to look after this room before she proceeded to her intended destination.

"Wow, that person earlier was really beautiful."

"Keep it down, or the manager will fire you."

The first strict rule of this restaurant is to maintain customer confidentiality, especially for those using private rooms.

"I was just giving a compliment, I didn't say anything..."

"It's better not to say anything. Good-paying jobs like this are hard to find". It's true that the restaurant carefully selects its staff, and there are contracts that employees like them wouldn't dare break.

By the way, didn't that beautiful customer ask for directions to the restroom earlier?

“What are you looking at?”

“I was just thinking that way doesn’t lead to the restroom on the second floor.”

“Exactly, that’s the stairway leading down to the first floor of the restaurant.”

Walking downstairs isn't the way to the restroom on the private floor. Maybe the customer wanted to use the common restroom instead. As she was still wondering a bit, she furrowed her brows again when she saw the beautiful customer (hmm... but the outfit isn't the same) who she just gave directions to the restroom was now walking back this way.

CHAPTER #02: THE NEW STAFF (P2)

She smiled at the beautiful customer before opening the private dining room door as was her duty. Perhaps the beautiful customer went to the restroom on the first floor to change her outfit.

But it wasn't even ten minutes before the door to the private dining room she was in charge of opened again. It was still the same beautiful customer. She smiled at her, but this time she was quite confused. The beautiful customer asked the same question she had already asked before. If she gives directions to the restroom this time, will the customer go to the restroom or head down to the first floor again?

"Thank you".

“Wait a moment, please”.

“This way is to the restroom, while that way leads down to the first floor of the restaurant”. She emphasized to the customer this time, in case the customer might have misunderstood earlier.

The sound of the communication device provided for the staff in the restaurant signaled King, reminding her of her duty to take care of the private room. The food that the customer ordered was ready, and her next task was to serve it. King told the staff member carrying the tray to be careful. She advised caution because the staff member was new—a sweet and lovely girl with a good personality.

Since she was still in her probationary period, King hoped the new staff member would stay and work at the restaurant for a long time.

"Paenth, be careful. The private room needs to be handled with extra care."

"Okay, P'King."

"Let's start serving the food to the customers."

Paenth began to carefully bring in the food, following the training they had received. Meanwhile, the beautiful customer who had exited earlier was still standing still, not thinking of going inside.

Two women with nearly identical faces were standing side by side. One was in a work suit, while the other wore casual clothing, having changed from a skirt to pants and a light-colored shirt.

"Didn't you tell Mom Earn and Mummy Lada that you went to the bathroom?"

"I did, went to the bathroom."

"Hmm, there is a bathroom for the private floor, but Aey still went down below." The speaker had a small smile, but the person being questioned had a neutral expression with an underlying feeling.

"Are you being critical?"

"Just thinking that way. Eung hasn't said anything yet."

"Dr. Eung".

"Aey, do you know that I don't want you to be in love?"

"Why?"

"Regarding love, Mummy Lada once said that Aey is like Mummy, dedicated and hopeful... I don't want to see Aey disappointed again."

She never wanted to witness the pain, sadness and disappointment of a woman who shares the same face. Dr. Eung gently took the hand of the person who sighed.

"Eung..."

"Eung can treat Aey's physical illness, but I can't heal Aey's heart."

"Don't try to be sentimental here."

"Just the two of us, it's fine to be sentimental... The staff should have finished serving. Let's go with Mom Earn and Mummy Lada. I'm hungry now".

The same server who was chosen to take care of the customers in the private room accidentally covered their mouth, unsure whether to be shocked or stunned.

This caused one of the two women, who looked almost identical except for their clothing, to burst into laughter.

"Twins..."

"That's right! We're twins" one of them replied with a beautiful smile.

King had accidentally thought out loud in her curiosity. Looking at the closed door, she couldn't help but sigh with relief. With them looking so alike, there must have been some misunderstandings. Even she had mistaken them!

"P'King, just now..." . The sight of the backs of the two female customers in front made the waitress pause. Unfortunately, Paenth didn't get a chance to see the faces of the customers whom King said were very beautiful.

"They are the customers of this room. All of them are very beautiful. Alright, let me take the last dish in myself."

“Thank you, P’ King”.

“Paenth, take a break. You’ve been serving non-stop since the restaurant opened.”

During the probation period, new staff are tested quite rigorously. She patted the shoulder of the lovely junior to encourage her before knocking on the door and then walking in to serve food to the customers.

The door in front of her closed, and the sweet-faced girl inadvertently looked down at her own feet before smiling again and walking off to continue her duties.

She let her desires and wishes remain hidden inside because fulfilling desires requires money, and she didn't have the money to satisfy her own wants. If she didn't have it, she would just have to keep her desires from surfacing.

Working hard for money because money is so important.

Anyone who says money isn't a key factor, she would argue with all her might.

Because, for her, money is vital for living.
Every happiness can be bought with money.
